Violence and tension many Albanian city

USPA NEWS - Tension and violence in Albania waiting to be held or not in the local elections on 30 June 2019. The president of the republic, who by decree has canceled the elections, is now in the scene and in this case 29 municipalities with opposition leaders are implementing this law the president by burning election materials and removing the infrastructure from the premises that are property of these municipalities. The police try to legally enforce these voting centers and look badly at the people who are in support of the heads of these municipalities and municipal police. The situation has been further aggravated more when the German newspaper Bild has published other talks of local socialist party leaders in the 2017 general election, where it is clear that the sale of the votes and the work through the workplace is obvious.

In many Albanian cities, police have collided with the local leaders and the population of these cities, claiming that both parties are defending the law in Albania. In fact, local leaders have been implementing the decree of the country's prefect to cancel the June 30 elections, that the Central Election Commission does not recognize such a decree and continues to make the situation worse from day to day. It seems that it is necessary to intervene in Europe or the US, in resolving a conflict that has a name, Edi Rama, Prime Minister of Albania, which in any case requires their holding in the name of the constitution's protection, and while the same person appears in the proceedings of the Albanian defendant running the sale of votes in 2017. These clashes can lead to a civil conflict, since others have put on the shoulder behind the ram's government wall in its greatest crisis.
